From State College Alumni

Edward S. Hiner, a 1939 graduate of the College and winner of a Ford Foundation fellowship spent the first semester of this last school year studying political science at the University of Kansas. In February he went to Washington to get practical experience and to see first hand the governmental processes he has been studying and teaching for years.

While in Washington, he spent part of his time in the office of Congressman William H. Avery of the first district of Kansas, reading letters from voters and doing research work.

Hiner followed legislature through the hearing and drafting stages in committees and through floor debate in both the house and senate. He was tremendously impressed by the many units of government which are working constantly to protect the public interest in a variety of fields ranging from federal trade to foods and drugs.

A native of Rushville, Hiner taught for ten years in Buchanan county schools. He left to serve three years in the navy and returned to teach at Atchison, Kansas, where he is now on leave as vice-principal of the high school in charge of guidance and counselling. His wife, the former Mayme Dan-jels of Rushville, also a graduate of this College, is a teacher in Atchison's elementary grades.

Mrs. Dorothy S. Carlson, Silver Spring, Maryland, visited her aunt, Mrs. Raymond Barry, last week.

Mrs. Carlson, a graduate of the College, had been attending a national meeting of the Association of Childhood Education in Kansas City. She is an assistant editor of the association's magazine which is published in Washington, D. C.

A letter was received recently by Mr. Everett Brown of the Field Service office from Mr. and Mrs. Burt Tassell of Beloit, Wisconsin.

Mr. Tassell is the physical director at the Beloit Y. M. C. A., and Mrs. Tassell is working at the Wagon Wheel Lodge, which is one of the ten most exclusive lodges in the world. Mrs. Tassell decided to wait a year and get into the school system as a home economics teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Tassell are both 1951 graduates of this College.

James M. Jackson, class of 1947, will represent this college at the inauguration of President Harold Potter Rodes, Bradley University at Peoria, Illinois.

Twenty-one student members of A. C. E. also attended this conference. There were 2,902 delegates in attendance from every state and many foreign countries.

Miss Chloe Millikan, a member of the education department who recently suffered a broken hip, is now convalescing at her home. Miss Millikan will not be able to return to the College faculty until next fall.

Dr. John L. Harr, head of the social science department, and Mr. George R. Gayler, also of the social science department, have planned to attend the Mississippi Valley Historical Association at St. Louis, April 28-30.

Dr. Harr and Mr. Gayler plan to attend a joint session that will be held with the Missouri Council for Social Studies. A panel of this group will be led by Dr. Gordon Price, supervising teacher of the Social Studies at Horace Mann.

Miss Olive DeLuce, head of the art department, recently attended a convention of the National Art Association in Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss DeLuce participated as a member of two committees on Art in Rural Schools and Standards for Art in Teachers Colleges.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

What Is an Oratorio?

The sacred oratorio began as a gathering of both people and priests before the oratory, or vestibule, of the chapel. Here they sang psalms and listened to Biblical instruction. Later these lessons developed into one theme set with music, such as a complete narrative of a prophet's life.

The form of this art is like that of opera, minus stage setting, acting and costumes. There are an orchestra, a chorus, and soloists. The composer uses these to develop his story. However, since the work is religious, the ideals portrayed transcend all operas. Here is the strength of the oratorio. Man's greatest inspirations are conveyed through the medium of a prophet's life and the composer can use his creative powers to their fullest conveying this to the listener.

Elijah is rich material for an oratorio, including such episodes of his life as his prophecy of the drought, his challenge to the Baal worshippers at Mt. Carmel, his escape from Queen Jezebel and journey to Mt. Horeb, and finally, his ascension to Heaven in a fiery chariot. Mendelssohn concludes this story with a triumphant setting, of an affirmation of faith in "Lord our Creator."

They're Talking About . . .

The success of the Spring Hop . . . Buddy Morrow and his orchestra provided first-class entertainment for the dance which was enjoyed by all. . . . "Night Train" and other Morrow melodies are still running through the minds of those who attended the first annual spring dance . . . May next year's dance be even bigger and better.

Track . . . The success of the Bearcat track team is something to talk about. The season is off to a grand start with wins in several different meets . . . While the track team burns up the cinders, the tennis and golf teams are giving good accounts of themselves also . . . The campus has some really outstanding performers in these events.

Baseball . . . The major league season is well underway with Kansas City now a big league city, Missouri has two major league ball teams, one right here at our doorstep . . . Even though all the experts, except me, picked K. C. to finish last, enthusiasm still runs high for the Athletics . . . And come next spring, baseball will make an appearance here at 'Ol State as the Bearcats will field a team for the first time in years.

Field trip weather . . . With everything in full bloom, a number of field trips have been taken around the campus . . . The botany class by now is probably well acquainted with a number of trees, which help make our campus one of the most beautiful anywhere.

Alpha Phi Omega Does It Again

A sign to be erected at the entrance of the College by the Alpha Phi Omega Service fraternity will be completed before the end of the semester. Plans for the sign were recently approved by President J. W. Jones.

Inscribed on the sign will be the following words: Northwest Missouri State College—Established in 1905. The base, to be made of brick, will be 8 feet long and 2 feet high. The upper part of the sign, to be made of wood, will be 6 feet long and 2½ feet high.

President Stan Stewart recently appointed a committee to make arrangements with a contractor to build the sign. The money for the sign was earned at a football game last semester.

Such things as the possibility of lighting the sign at night, the method of construction and the drawing up of plans for it have been discussed by the fraternity members of Alpha Phi Omega.

Under the direction of Stan Stewart, past projects chairman, they have put in much time, thought and preparation on this project, and they want the sign to be a worthy contribution to the over-all appearance of the College for the forthcoming Fiftieth Anniversary year.

Industrial Arts

A group of students of the Industrial Arts department, accompanied by Mr. Howard Ringold, instructor in the metal working division, visited some industrial plants in Kansas City, April 4.

This group of 34 students interested in welding and metal working first explored the Sheffield Steel Company to learn more about the machinery and finished products. They gained much information during the three and one half hours inspecting the parts in this plant in the eastern part of the city.

Their next visit was in the Air Reduction Plant where they learned the procedure and ingredients in manufacturing of welding gas which is essential in working metals into the desired articles and the welding processes.

Art Club

Art Club officers who were recently elected are as follows: Carol Gamble, president; Shirley Motsinger, vice-president; Don Robertson, secretary-treasurer; and Don Miller, publicity manager.

Delta Siamas

Look at the Deltas—those seven points of interest—thanks to Miss Cook's report on "Dressing for the Occasion."

Plans were made for the annual spring formal which will be May 7. Who will the Rose be? No one knows until that night.

Candy sales and more candy sales—those visitors certainly get hungry when they see all that fudge set before their eyes as they enter the Ad building.

A work day has been scheduled for Saturday. Washing windows, cleaning houses, raking yards—well, girls, it's good preparation for the future.

Best wishes to one of our pledges, Olive Long, on her engagement to Richard Smith.

Maryville took firsts in 9 of the 15 events. Jack Spence and Mickey Anderson scored double victories for the Bearcats. Spence won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and ran anchor for the winning 880 relay. Anderson maintained his record by winning both the mile and two-mile.

In the first tennis match of the season, the Bearcats defeated Nebraska Wesleyan in good shape with a 4-0 score. Charles Adair, Paul Clark, and Dick Phillips won singles and Bob Smith and Clark won in the doubles.

Winning four singles and two doubles for a grand sweep, the Bearcats outmanned the Tarkio teams all the way on the Tarkio courts in their next match.

In a close match the Bearcats again claimed victory when they met the Graceland netters on the Lamoni, Iowa, courts.

Phillips and Smith won singles with Clark and Merle Sorenson losing. Adair and Clark won in the doubles; Smith and Phillips were defeated, giving the total score of 4-3.

The Bearcats will meet the Tennis Club of Lincoln, Nebraska, here Saturday, April 30, beginning at 12:00.

golfers in the next match.

Coach Milner's Bearcats Improve on the Cinders

Bearcat spikemen have made better showings on the cinders this year than last year.

"A few of the boys are gradually improving, some are at a stand still, and some seem to be going down hill," commented Coach Ryland Milner. "Lou Linville, Mickey Anderson, Jack Spence, and Rick Tilton are looking unusually good."

"The majority of men in the field events have not come through as well as was expected at the opening of the season," he asserted.

"The hurdlers are working hard enough, but as yet are not winning men," continued Coach Milner.

Warrensburg, who will be here May 6, has by far the most outstanding track team in the conference.
